TITLE	Main Street Seating for 2002 Olympics
LOCATION	Main Street, Salt Lake City, Utah
DESCRIPTION	The initial, perfectly platted city grid of Salt Lake has a unique place in American city planning. This grid provides the graphic form and inspiration for four sculptural seating areas on Main Street, while looser grids of natural forms create a counter part to this geometry. Ensembles of sculptural seating in granite, sandstone and bronze in four areas along Main Street take advantage of the historical interdependence of public and private spaces on Main Street, providing interesting places for everyday activities and incentives for the development of business and life on the street.
